

Lord You said that if I ask
It will be given to me
And Lord, You said that if I seek
That which I seek I will see
And Lord, You said that if I knock
Your door will open to me
So I'm asking You Lord
To answer my prayer
The cry You have heard from my heart

And I'm seeking Your face
Seeking mercy and grace
To be still in the eye of the storm
And I'm knocking the door
Even though I'm not sure
You will grant me my heart's one desire
But nothing matters more than knowing You.
